

Pacific Northwest Wining and Dining

The People, Places, Food, and Drink of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and British Columbia

By Braiden Rex-Johnson

AVAILABLE NOW!

This is a must-have guide to one of America's fastest-growing tourist destinations -- the Pacific Northwest -- which is quickly gaining a reputation as a great food and wine destination. With recipes adapted from top chefs, fascinating history and lore, and 140 stunning photos of the picturesque region, it will transport readers to the lush vineyards and the thriving restaurant scene of the Northwest.

Braiden Rex-Johnson has been writing about Pacific Northwest food and wine for more than fifteen years. She is the author of six books, including the best-selling Pike Place Market Cookbook, which has sold 85,000 copies and is now in its second edition. Rex-Johnson writes a quarterly food-and-wine-pairing column for Wine Press Northwest, served as the food editor at Seattle Homes & Lifestyles for five years, and has written for a wide variety of regional publications including Northwest Palate and CityFood. She is a member of IACP, a judge for the James Beard Foundation, and an active member of the Seattle chapter of Les Dames d'Escoffier International (LDEI). Rex-Johnson has appeared on The Food Network, The Travel Channel, The Discovery Channel, QVC, PBS, and National Public Radio, and has her own website at www.NorthwestWiningandDining.com.
